AT THE THEATRES

FICTION'S FAMOUS DETECTIVE APPEARS ON CAPITOL SCREEN

On the screen for the last time to-night at the Capitol Theatre is Paramount's all-talking melodrama, "The Greene Murder Case," starring William Powell in the leading role of Philo Vance, S. S. Van Dine's famous hero detective. The production is filled with thrills, suspense and action galore, and depicts the further adventures of fiction's most fascinating sleuth. The picture adheres very closely to "The Greene Murder Case" which was the first of the series, and will find "The Greene Murder Case" a fitting companion picture. An all-talking comedy and the Paramount Sound News are included on this very entertaining bill.

MILDRED PAGE IS AGAIN CENTRE OF COLISEUM STAGE

With their first comedy farce in Victoria, the Mildred Page Players are appearing all this week at the Coliseum Theatre, the title of the stage production being "The 'It' Girl." The play bristles with humor and large audiences have left the theatre thoroughly satisfied with the evening's entertainment. Miss Mildred Page, the directress of the company and herself a clever actress is of course the centre of attraction again this week. She has made scores of new friends and admirers since opening at the Coliseum last week. Others in the cast who are giving pleasing performances in the respective roles are Miss Crystal Lee, Miss Ruth Albright, Horace Lintz, J. Barrie Norton, Phil Kieffer, Arthur Siegert and Paul Bardeley. Marie Dressler, well-known comedienne of the screen, has the leading role in the screen feature this week, a picture entitled "Maggie and Jiggs." All the favorites of the famous comic strip are seen in the picture, and Dinty Moore, Mrs. De Feyster, Count De Cett and Jiggs's beautiful daughter and her lovely friends are there.

"FROZEN RIVER" WITH RIN-TIN-TIN AT THE COLUMBIA

Harmon Weight, who directed Warner Bros. production "Frozen River," now at the Columbia Theatre, in which Rin-Tin-Tin is seen as the star, directed the film as an assistant director from which he rose to director. Previous to directing "Frozen River" Weight filmed "Hard Boiled Rose" for Warner Bros.

UNUSUAL CLIMAX TO FILM SHOWING AT THE PLAYHOUSE

An unexpected ending occurs in "Man, Woman and Wife," the universal picture showing at the Playhouse Theatre, when a leading character deliberately walks into a situation of extreme danger as an atonement for his mistakes. The climax in keeping with the rest of the picture which is one of the most unusual seen here this year. In the cast are Norman Kerry in the starring role, Pauline Starke, Marian Nixon, Kenneth Harlan, Crawford Kent and Byron Douglas. Edward Laemmle directed.

SUGAR FROM JAVA

Montreal, Sept. 4.—With the first shipment of sugar from Java to Canada in at least twenty years, the steamship Clain Skene arrived at Montreal yesterday with 73,000 bags from Tjilatjap, on the south coast of Java.

BOBBY JONES BEATEN BY OMAHA YOUNGSTER

Fay Coleman, California sharpshooter, beat Romans 4 and 3.

Jones, although considerably below his best form, met a tartar in Goodman who won the first three holes in a row, saw this margin slowly but surely wiped out and then regained what proved to be the decisive margin on the 556-yard fourteenth. Shot for shot they fought over the last four holes and Jones was unable to get back a single stroke.

SHOCKED EXPERTS

The downfall of the great Georgian shocked the experts, who had made Jones a prohibitive favorite, as well as a gallery of nearly 5,000 Californians who had expected the champion to march through the first tournament ever held in the far west. Bobby had furnished most of the practice thrills with Gene Romans for the medal yesterday and appeared close to the top of his game until he started out this morning.

It was an uphill fight for Jones from the outset. Warning of the impending reversal came when he dropped the first three holes in a row.

DEVELOPMENT BRIAND TO STATE OF CANADATOPIC FRANCE'S VIEWS OF CHURCHILL ON PEACE STEPS

British Ex-Chancellor, Addressing Audience, Predicts Great Growth

Expansion to North Will Give
As Much As Did Westward Trek

Vancouver, Sept. 4.—That in the next quarter century the role of development in Canada to the north, giving breadth, girth and bulk to the Dominion, would have as great economic and political importance as the westward trek of the last thirty years, was a prediction made here last night by Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill.

All the inventions of science seemed designed to develop central Canada, said the former Chancellor of the Exchequer of Great Britain, addressing a meeting held here under the auspices of the National Council of Education.

Everything that annihilated distance, that made life and production easier, was exactly what Canada needed to use the great central lands stretching to the Arctic, he declared.

Speaking of Vancouver's place in the development of the country, he said: "Vancouver has a special right to cast her hopes on the highest mountain. It is obvious this wonderful situation must be heir to the next few generations. Behind you is the growing power of half a continent which cannot fail to find its expansion on the Pacific. The trials of the war days have been survived. We are now moving forward—you in the van—to the sunrise of victorious peace."

BRITAIN'S GAINS

Mr. Churchill's address was composed of three parts. In the first he summed up his observations in Canada, foretelling a great and prosperous future for the country. In the second he denied Britain was decadent and cited facts and figures to show that since the World War the island kingdom had increased its power, prestige and wealth. In the third he discussed four Empire problems. Two of these were debts and Egypt. The other two were naval disarmament and Singapore.

That Britain was waxing and not waning he demonstrated by these statements of fact. The country has more people, better educated, and clothed people, better protected against misfortune, than ever before and in the last particular to a greater degree than any other nation could show. Britain exports more per capita than any other built more than half the ships that were built in the world. The world's still carry the bulk of the world's trade. Britain's foreign investments are on a larger scale than before the war and are greater than those of the wealthy United States. Habits of the people are improving. Liquor consumption is declining and jails are being closed.

PLAYING THE GAME

"I am an opponent of the present Socialist or Labor Government," said the ex-Chancellor, "but I would not like you to think everything has gone to chaos. These Ministers to-day are Ministers of the Crown and are entitled to respect commensurate with their great responsibilities. They are gaining popularity—not by putting Socialism forward, but by playing the game with the country. So long as in the main they work for the general good of the British nation and the Empire, it does not matter much who holds the offices of state."

"I was brought up by my father on the doctrine of 'Trust the people.' You need not fear the foundation of your anchorage to the United Kingdom is being undermined by anything in the situation there. They will do their duty or be replaced by others who will."

Turning to the problems of the Empire as a whole, Mr. Churchill said that, above all things, peace was required, and he agreed with President Hoover that the prospects for peace during the next fifty years were bright.

REPARATIONS POSITION

Speaking of the recent Hague conference, Mr. Churchill said the agreement on the Young reparations plan had impaired the principle of the Balfour note and that the time had come for a restatement of the British position on the war debts in terms more favorable to Great Britain.

"We can no longer say," he declared, "that we are obtaining as much from Europe, including arrears, as the United States is receiving from us."

He referred especially to the repudiated Russian debt of £600,000,000, which, he said, France and Italy should be asked to agree was outside the "self-denying limitations of fairly."

Mr. Churchill regarded this debt as not impossible of collection with Russia redoning "the garb of civilization" in the next ten or fifteen years.

PALESTINE AFFAIRS

Dealing with the fighting in Palestine, Mr. Churchill said the British Government must restore order. He saw no reason why the Jews and Arabs could not live side by side in peace. Certainly no British political party, Socialist, Conservative or Liberal, would repudiate undertakings made in time of war to the Zionist movement.

Stresemann of Germany Also To Address League Assembly Monday

Geneva, Sept. 4 (By George Hamilton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—The Tenth Assembly of the League of Nations awaits word from France and Germany to-day of their reactions to Premier MacDonald's speech yesterday. Commentators note that while the British Premier was very warmly congratulated by the German delegation, Premier Briand of France remained silent in his seat. Tomorrow both M. Briand and Dr. Gustav Stresemann, head of the German delegation, are to speak.

CHINESE VIEWS HEARD

Dr. Chao Chu Wu, Chinese Minister to the United States, today addressed the Assembly. He described Premier MacDonald's speech as the most inspiring words spoken since the birth of the League, when Woodrow Wilson gave expression to the aspirations of the nations in their dealings with one another.

China had always followed the path of peace, he said, but his country had learned "by bitter experience that a peaceful nation which does not defend itself against aggression does not get peace, but merely invites further aggression."

NEW PATHS SOUGHT

He asked why the Assembly, as authorized by the League covenant, had never advised consideration by the members of the international conditions "whose continued existence might endanger the peace of the world."

Premier Stauning of Denmark closed the morning session with a review of what Denmark had done in the way of disarmament.

LONDON POSTS VIEW

London, Sept. 4.—The London Morning Post, Conservative, to-day showed some perturbation at the extent of Premier Ramsay MacDonald's commitments in his speech yesterday before the Assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva.

The paper particularly deplored that "the British Government pledged itself to the optional clause" of the World Court, the effect of which will be to submit to the international court any point of law in which there may be a serious difference of opinion between members and the League.

The Post warned "that an English king declined to kiss the toe of an Emperor, and that an English church refused to accept its orders from a Pope. England fought not one but several wars rather than submit to any Continental domination. And, if at so great a cost we freed ourselves from a foreign yoke we should beware how we fall under the authority of Geneva."

Fred. F. Proctor of Vaudeville Fame Dies

New York, Sept. 4.—Frederick Francis Proctor, seventy-eight, known as the dean of vaudeville theatre chain owners, died at his home at Larchmont, N.Y., to-day.

Mr. Proctor had been in ill-health for several months, and recently suffered an attack of congestion of the lungs, from which he failed to rally.

Bennett Says B.C. Has Great Future

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—Hon. R. B. Bennett, Federal Conservative leader, returned to the capital to-day from a five-weeks' tour of British Columbia, in the course of which he delivered more than sixty addresses.

He came back more impressed than ever with the achievements and potentialities of the Pacific Coast Province.

SCHOONER BLOWS UP AND CREW OF EIGHT RESCUED

REPORTED NEW BOATS TO USE OUTER DOCKS

ANOTHER DEVELOPMENT

The suitability of the docks has given strength to the report and has started speculation of its effect on that part of the Dallas waterfront. With the grain elevator, the cold storage plant and the woolen mills among the recent improvements in that section of the city, a decision to establish the terminus of the new service would mark another important stride in the recent progress of a section well suited to industrial development.

Sir Henry Thornton has frequently announced his intention of doing his best to bring business to the commodious outer docks and turn that site into the hive of industry that it was hoped it would be when it was constructed. Appropriations were recently made by the Dominion Government for installing bumpers and pointing the end of the piers. Erection of overhead gangways and other facilities for passengers would be a matter of ordinary construction for which the dock is well adapted, it is claimed.

The new C.N.E. boats will be 384.8 feet long with a beam of 56 feet. They will be called the Prince David, Prince Robert and Prince Henry, and will be the largest ferry steamers on the Coast.

CATHEDRAL MAKES PLEA FOR FINANCES

Twelve members of the board of directors discussed this situation yesterday evening, at a meeting held in the synod office, Memorial Hall, with the Bishop of Columbia, Right Rev. C. D. Schofield, presiding.

ALTERNATIVE PROPOSALS

The following proposals were considered: To stop the work at the point where money in hand is exhausted, in order that there may be no debt standing against any part of the cathedral for completion on September 28.

To ask the directors to be responsible for raising the balance required, namely, $22,767, before September 28, and as much as possible before September 14, the date on which a number of heavy payments on construction work fall due.

On the suggestion of Lindley Crease, K.C., it was decided that an appeal for cash or good securities should be made by the directors, and that each member of the board should do his utmost to interest individuals in contributing to the amount needed, and so permit the last stage of construction to be finished.

Gifts, large and small, are to be sent to the honorary treasurer, Christ Church Cathedral Buildings Limited, at 915 Vancouver Street. Several of the directors expressed the hope that a number of people would be willing to give again, or associate themselves with others in agreeing to give a certain amount, in a concluding effort to clear up the amount outstanding.

TEST OF STRENGTH IN NEW HOUSE OF SASKATCHEWAN

Members were the first to enter the chamber. Premier James Gardiner with his twenty-eight supporters followed. As the opposing parties took their seats spectators in the galleries applauded their respective leaders.

Arrival of Lieut.-Governor H. W. Newlands was the next event. On taking his place the Lieut.-Governor immediately requested the members to select a Speaker and withdrew from the chamber.

GROUPS MEET IN CAUCUS

Regina, Sept. 4.—In final caucuses for the battle for political supremacy to take place at the opening of the new Saskatchewan Legislature this afternoon, Liberal members gathered in the Parliament Buildings and the so-called Co-operative groups in a leading hotel.

Both meetings were late in starting, as members-elect had to attend before the clerk of the Legislature to take their oaths. Expectations were that the conferences would continue well into the afternoon and might not end until shortly before the opening at 3 p.m.

Premier James G. Gardiner attended the Liberal caucus, which had a full attendance of twenty-eight members. Dr. J. T. M. Anderson presided at the gathering of Conservatives, Progressives and Independents, with a total strength of thirty-five.

TARIFF BILL IS PUT BEFORE SENATE OF U.S.

cultural commodities by eleven per cent, and, going through the bill by individual schedules, gave the committee majority's reasons for the rates it had agreed upon.

All necessary investigations, the report said, would be made within the United States, thus avoiding inquiries in other countries with their difficulties and occasional international disagreements. It was asserted that through the new method present inequalities resulting from differing production costs in various nations would be adopted.

SHINGLES ON FREE LIST

The committee majority recommends lumber and shingles be restored to the free list, because costs of production in Canada and the United States are about equal and the Canadian shingles are better, and mills in the Puget Sound district are without supplies of raw material.

Commenting on the fish schedule, the committee majority's report explained a seasonal change was made in one rate "in order that a larger supply may be available during the winter months." This rate as changed is half a cent a pound instead of one cent upon fish other than halibut, salmon, mackerel and swordfish, from October 1 to May 1. The report said the duty on fish dried and unsalted, cod, haddock, pollock and cusk, had been reduced from 2½¢ per pound to 1½¢ because the higher rate imposed an unnecessary tax on the consumers.

A reduction of the rate on clams and clam juice from 35 per cent. ad valorem to 20 per cent. "in order to retard the depletion of United States clam beds." The Democrats of the Senate, together with a number of senators from the agricultural states, will take exception to the explanations offered by the finance committee.

DR. KING VISITS LARGE PART OF THE PROVINCE

Dr. King again Saturday, Sunday and Monday, returning to Vancouver on Thursday, September 12, when he plans to sail for the north.

Government and party matters will both engage his attention while here. On Friday, September 6, Dr. King will hold a conference with the special organization committee appointed at the last meeting of the British Columbia Liberal Association executive, Dugald Donaghy, K.C., vice-president of the association, is chairman of that committee, which has during recent months co-operated with local associations in holding several nominating conventions. Organization plans for the next Federal election will be discussed at Friday's conference.

PENSIONS AND DREDGING

Deputations on problems of pensions and on dredging matters are to interview the Minister during his day and before he leaves the Province Dr. King has agreed to address a luncheon of the Leir Club of Vancouver.

After his tour of the northern constituencies and the Cariboo, the Minister expects to return to the coast for a few days before starting east for Ottawa.

LIGHTWEIGHT Woolen Frocks Modern as the Women Who Will Choose Them

THE modern woman, already alert to the fashion trends of autumn, will shop in town... attend sports meets... travel from anywhere to anywhere... drive... or walk... in fact, except for the dressy afternoon occasion, she will be inclined to appear in a light-weight woolen frock at most any daytime affair. She knows it is "right," and what's as important, she knows it is comfortable and practical. Furthermore, the new feather tweeds, wool georgettes, fine jerseys and repps lend themselves more gracefully to the present mode than their less supple predecessors.

MR. CHURCHILL'S BUSY HOLIDAY

WHEN MR. CHURCHILL LEFT GREAT Britain for Canada he had undertaken to deliver four addresses in this country under the auspices of the National Council of Education. The rest of the time at his disposal he had hoped to devote to seeing the Dominion and meeting people in an informal way. As far as possible, he intended to make a holiday of his visit. Victoria, for instance, was not on the distinguished statesman's speaking programme. But his plans have been changed considerably. The former Chancellor of the Exchequer has very graciously responded to the importunities with which he has been besieged ever since he landed on our shores. We may assure him that the Canadian people appreciate his generosity, and we trust that the development of his trip from something of a pleasure tour into a speaking tour has had compensating advantages for him in wider interests and enjoyment.

It is thirty years since Mr. Churchill last was in Canada. Much has happened since then. Perhaps the changes so apparent to our distinguished visitor have had something to do with the changes in his previously arranged programme. It may not be too much to expect that the new Canada which he now is beholding will be something of an inspiration to him. By the same token, Canadians do not regard Mr. Churchill as a stranger. They have followed his exceptional career with interest. His fine contributions to literature, his service to the country of his birth and to the Empire as a statesman, and the position he occupies in public life to-day are appreciated as much in Canada as anywhere in the British Commonwealth.

The visits of Mr. Churchill, former Premier Baldwin and Mr. Thomas to Canada beyond doubt will help to strengthen the ties between Britain and this Dominion. We shall hope that other British statesmen will follow their example and study our country at first hand. Of course, our own public men frequently travel to Great Britain and endeavor to absorb the point of view of the Old World. All such exchanges make for better understanding and Empire solidarity.

SASKATCHEWAN'S POLITICAL PUZZLE

THERE IS EVERY PROSPECT THAT the session of the Legislature which opened at Regina this afternoon will be the shortest the Province of Saskatchewan has known since the first Government was formed in 1905. The Administration headed by Premier Gardiner will be represented by twenty-eight members, the Conservative opposition led by Dr. J. T. M. Anderson will be composed of twenty-four members; in addition to whom there are five Progressives and six Independents, making a total of sixty-three. In the last Legislature the combined opposition totaled no more than ten members. Premier Gardiner leading a Government party of fifty-three.

Not a little controversy has taken place with respect to the situation created by the general elections of last June. The opponents of the Government have contended that as soon as it was made clear to Premier Gardiner that all the opposition elements intended to join forces to vote him out of office, he should have resigned forthwith, thus avoiding the cost of calling an extra session. The leader of the opposition even went so far as to ask the Lieutenant-Governor to dismiss the Government and call upon him to carry on the business of the province. It was a foregone conclusion, of course, that the representative of the Crown would not comply with such a request; but the fact that it was made in all seriousness is an indication of the tense political situation which has been apparent in Saskatchewan during the last three months.

Premier Gardiner was on sound constitutional ground in refusing to be persuaded to leave office. Whether he has added to or detracted from his political prestige by insisting upon the enjoyment of his rights is another matter. He pointed out at the outset, however, that the general elections could not be considered complete until two deferred contests had been decided. In both cases a supporter of the Government was returned, the election in the constituency of Cumberland having been fought only last month, thus giving the Prime Minister the largest group, or four more than the principal opposition party. With this following he met the Legislature this afternoon and will now await his fate.

What course Dr. Anderson proposes to pursue is not indicated in any of the dispatches from Regina at this writing. The Conservative leader and his followers appear to be guarding their secret well. One suggestion is that the combined opposition will force the issue on the appointment of a Speaker. Another report has it that Premier Gardiner and Dr. Anderson have reached an agreement as to the time the final test shall be taken, in which case it is most likely that an amendment to the Speech from the Throne will be selected as a means of settling the matter.

In the event of the defeat of the Government—which, of course, is taken for granted—Saskatchewan will witness the ending of almost a quarter of a century of Liberal rule. The Province's first Premier was Hon. Walter Scott, who formed his Government—on the creation of Saskatchewan as a Province—on September 5, 1905, and he remained at the helm of the ship of state until October 19, 1916, when ill-health caused his retirement from active public life. He was succeeded by Hon. William Martin, who held office for more than five years, relinquishing the Premiership on his elevation to the Court of Appeal in the spring of 1922. He was followed by Hon. Charles Dunning, who turned over the reins to the present Premier at the end of February, 1926, when he entered the Federal arena and became Minister of Railways and Canals in the Government of Mr. Mackenzie King.

As in other provinces, the people of Saskatchewan decided last June that it was "time for a change." They voted accordingly; but they did not make the mistake of putting out one Government with a big majority merely to substitute for it another with an equally unwieldy following. The cause of the public should be well served with political forces almost evenly divided.

COMPROMISE BETTER THAN FIGHTING

ALTHOUGH ALL THE DANGER OF armed conflict may not have passed, it begins to look as if Nationalist China and Soviet Russia will be able to settle their dispute in a peaceful way.

The soldiers of both countries assumed a menacing attitude at the outset, and their Governments issued statements intending to suggest that neither would climb down. But wiser counsels prevailed. Both China and Russia were reminded that they are parties to the Kellogg pact and that to fly at one another's throats in the face of their obligations would put them in seriously wrong with the rest of the world.

Sceptics freely predicted that this anti-war agreement would hardly be worth the paper upon which it was written; that the issue would be settled by war; but these predictions are discredited by the facts. Representatives of the two disputant countries met and talked the matter over. They did not agree at once. There are a number of intricate points which have yet to be reconciled. But the war fever in China and Russia has died down and the calmer atmosphere which now prevails will lend itself to an amicable settlement.

As we have said, there still is some danger of armed conflict, but each day that passes will weaken the desire to fight. The restraining influence of the Kellogg pact has been apparent throughout. Beyond doubt we shall be able to say before long that this simple anti-war treaty has emerged from its first test without any impairment of its power.

THE NARROW VIEWPOINT

THE AUTHORITIES OF THE BIG Exhibition in Toronto omitted "O Canada" and "The Maple Leaf" from the musical programme of their show. The Native Sons of Canada protested against the omission, and there has been comment on the incident in the press. The explanation of the exhibition authorities is that the two songs were left out of the programme because this is "Empire Year" in the exhibition calendar. This is too much for The Toronto Star—the most widely-read newspaper in Canada—to swallow, and it made the following comment:

The decision to omit "O Canada" from the programme as a mark of deference to the Empire is surely the pure product of the perfect flunkey mind. Canada, as one correspondent has pointed out, is as much a part of the Empire as is England, and in no position to be crowded off the scene at an exhibition called the Canadian National. It is anomalous enough that in a country of ten million people predominantly native there should be need for an organization of Native Sons, but it is absurd that it should be necessary for such a body to point out that "O Canada" should not be omitted from the music at the Canadian National Exhibition. The organization, it seems, begins to be needed.

It will be difficult for most people to understand the mental processes that were responsible for the decision. It is amazing, moreover, that any official or officials, directly or indirectly responsible for the success of the Canadian National Exhibition, one of the finest, if not the finest, of its kind in the British Empire, should be under the impression that there is any incompatibility between Canadian patriotism and Empire patriotism. As a matter of fact, the first is primarily necessary to the second. This ought to be obvious everywhere.

Some who talk about the Lancashire cotton strike appear to assume that it is an evil consequent upon Labor's success in the general elections. The strike took place because the owners of the mills ordered a reduction of twelve and one-half per cent in wages. The Labor Government can scarcely be blamed for that.—Toronto Star.

FORESIGHT IN WINTER WORK

Manitoba has recently let contracts for the final stretch of road in that province for the transcanada highway. If the country is to be threatened with unemployment during the coming autumn and winter, extension of work on the highway might be advisable in every province.

THE BRITISH PREFERENCE

The present Government will certainly not abolish the preference; there is a considerable probability that it will, at the tariff revision next session, increase it in some particulars in an effort to turn trade to Great Britain from the United States. Mr. Snowden's refusal of preference for preference will have no effect on the tariff policy of the Canadian Liberal Government, because neither at the time of its inception nor since has the Canadian preference on British goods been intended as a plea to Great Britain to change her tariff policy. The preference was given, and is maintained, because it is the Liberal belief that in its workings it is in the interest of Canada.

A THOUGHT

Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.—St. Matthew xi 28.
Work was made for man, and not man for work. Man is not work's servant, save as an almost universal perversion has made him such.—J. O. Holland.

Loose Ends

There is fierce controversy over conscious, sub-conscious and unconscious tennis, ping-pong, checkers and other manly sports. France invents a new way of saying "Number Please!" The wild horse follows the buffalo—and an Austrian peasant follows Mr. Lamb's advice.

By H. B. W.

IN the staid columns of The Manchester Guardian there has been raging a sober controversy over the virtues of conscious and unconscious tennis. The latest authority to contribute authentic views on this vital issue is Senorita d'Alvarez, the Spanish star who, if she is not the best, is certainly the most beautiful player in the game, which is more important anyhow. Well, Senorita d'Alvarez has given it as her opinion that "the best tennis is subconscious." (There have been even greater players, like myself, for instance, whose very best tennis is played when they are entirely unconscious or otherwise unable to play at all, but what the Senorita means, says The Guardian, is that you should play without having to think about how you do it.)

All this is quite simple and is not content to leave it there. It offers this striking and delicious advice: "We may be so bold as to support Senorita d'Alvarez from our experience of the humble but allied game of ping-pong. Every ping-pong player knows that he has a blind spot, usually the corner of the table near his left hip, where he cannot watch the ball right on to the racket. But he also knows, that on his good days, he can make the hardest returns from this corner, without seeming to see the ball as it has a blind spot, usually the corner of the table near his left hip, where he cannot watch the ball right on to the racket. ## MANSON SPEAKS IN VANCOUVER

Improvement in People's Standard of Living Is Speaker's Theme

Vancouver, Sept. 4.—"Society actually is an organism, and the complexity and interdependence of the human race has increased since the days of Eden, declared A. M. Manson, K.C., M.P., addressing the Vancouver Rotary Club at a luncheon yesterday. Speaking of the progress and achievements of an inventive world, speeding up and attaining mechanical perfection in industry, the former Attorney-General said the industrial revolution causing these changed conditions was not yet over.

Labor is more than merely a commodity, even though the relationship between labor and capital may be somewhat lacking in human sympathy, he said, for labor has definite aims that will be accomplished through the interdependence of the nations of the world.

SELF-IMPROVEMENT
Among the objectives of labor, Mr. Manson mentioned that spark in every individual which craved for a status in the community making for a fuller and richer life.

A greater share in the responsibility and management of the industrial world went hand in hand with the desire for a greater share in the profits, he said.

Improved hours of work and reasonable leisure he grouped with the aim for improved conditions and less hazardous occupations for the worker. Lastly, Mr. Manson mentioned the striving for reasonable assurance against unemployment.

Hon. W.S. Willoughby Comes for Holiday

Hon. W. S. Willoughby of Moose Jaw, Conservative leader in the Canadian Senate, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon on a holiday visit and left this morning for Qualicum Beach.

As former chairman of the divorce committee of the Senate, Senator Willoughby is interested in the introduction of legislation to remove some of the anomalies connected with the administration of divorce by the Senate, which applies only to a very few provinces at present, including Ontario and Quebec.

Although the Senate is charged with the duty of granting divorce as far as those provinces are concerned, there are difficulties encountered inasmuch as under the laws of the country to matter of adjusting alimony, of the custody of children, and other matters intimately associated with divorce do not fall under the jurisdiction of the Dominion, but must be settled under provincial laws.

MEAT GRADING MEN ARRIVE IN VICTORIA

D. M. Phillips and J. E. Davies, special representatives of the selection and grading committee for Western Canada, arrived here yesterday afternoon en route to Seattle, where they will be joined by W. Worthing, international chairman, and Robert Little, Pacific Coast representative for the United States.

These gentlemen have just completed an extensive survey of the meat situation in Western Canada and were much impressed with the improved conditions apparent throughout this territory.

Endurance Fliers Tell of Warm Day

Chicago, Sept. 4.—The airplane Chicago-Wo-Wi, dived monotonously in wide circles over the Sky-Harbor airport here to-day in its quest for the world refusing endurance record. At 4:31 a.m. the plane passed the 241-hour mark and the sound of its motor, ground mechanics said, indicated everything was well.

Russell Moorman and G. E. Steel, the pilots, dropped a note commenting on yesterday's heat, and reiterated their intention to beat the 421-hour record set by the monoplane St. Louis Robin.

HATS

Of Every Type
Agree to Show
the Countenance

This is a frank and open season; hats sweep back from the face, flare at the sides and down at the back. A silhouette that is quite generally welcome because it is so universally becoming.

A Complete and Varied Collection

FALL

Presents Hats for All Activities

Sports Hats for spectator and participant emphasize the smartness of felt and tweed—agreeing on brims that flare at the side and shallow crowns. Hats for more formal occasions may also be had in felt, with equal emphasis on the smartness of soleil, black hatter's plush, velvet and satin. Trimming is sparingly used, and individual in its versions. Black lace inserts in the hat brim are among the smarter touches. Colors follow the rich tones of autumn, dahlia, English green, black, red, navy and many tones of brown.

ORPHANAGE WILL HAVE POUND DAY

Tuesday, October 8, Set Aside For Annual Appeal

Final arrangements for the annual pound party to be held on Tuesday, October 8, were made at the monthly meeting of the ladies' committee of the Protestant Orphanage held at the home yesterday afternoon. Mrs. C. H. Walker, the president, was in the chair, and others present were: Mesdames Elliott, Shepherd, Cox, O. M. Brown, Simpson, Dillabough, Grimison, Edwards, McKeown and Miss Murray.

The children all went back to school after a very happy and enjoyable vacation. Through the kindness of Joe North and Mrs. Cassidy the children were taken aboard the H.S.S. Colombo, also to a picnic at the Lagoon, being conveyed there and back by the Vancouver Island Bus Line and the Vancouver Transfer. During fair week, through the kindness of Mrs. Cassidy, J. North and the fair committee and C. and C. Taxi, the children visited the fair and had a good time.

Visiting ladies for September will be Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. Shepherd. Donations gratefully received were: Mr. Hillier, apples and vegetables; Mrs. F. Harper, vegetables; Chief Fry, fruit, bread and buns; Miss Murray, vegetables; Mrs. Wallace, four salmon; Mr. Howe, salmon; A. Friend, clothing; A. Friend, records; Small's Bakery, bread and buns; Mrs. Grimison, cake and sandwiches; Mr. C. King, two boxes apples; Jack and Billy McLaren, clothing and toys; Conservative picnic, groceries; Mr. Dunn, box apples; J. W. Richardson, thirty-three records; Mr. J. Evans, books and toys; Dr. Bryant, Dr. Gibson, Times and Colonist.

Committee of Aged Women's Home Meet

Mrs. W. L. Clay, the president, who has just returned after an absence of several months in the East, presided at the meeting of the committee of management of the Aged and Infirm Women's Home yesterday afternoon and received a cordial welcome home from the members. Others present were: Mesdames Gould, Grant, Vincent, H. Grant, Heddle, and the secretary, Mrs. Whittier.

The regular routine of business was attended to. The committee for the month reported that the painting of the lower halls was now completed and was a great improvement.

Two vacancies have just occurred, and two are ready to step into their places, with several still waiting to enter.

Donations for the month, gratefully acknowledged, include: Cauliflower and sweet peas, Mrs. Shotbolt; flowers, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Grant, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Strawford, Victoria Floral Co., Brown's Victoria Nurseries; vegetables, Mr. Hughes; apples and plums, Mrs. Brotherton; magazines, Mrs. Clay, Miss Jenny; large box of ruching, Miss Agnew.

Mrs. Peddie, the president, who took the chair at the monthly meeting of the Lake Hill Women's Institute yesterday afternoon, was presented with a box of fragrant roses as an expression of the general pleasure in her recovered health. The meeting was held in the institute room and eighteen members were present. Immediately following the institute ode—a few moments were spent in silence in memory of the late Mrs. Fooks, a valued member for many years, and one of the first enrolled members of Lake Hill Institute.

Mrs. Porter reported that nine members had assisted in the demonstration of wool quilt making at the Provincial Exhibition. Arrangements were made to hold a wool box on Thursday, September 12, in the institute room, commencing at 1 o'clock. Mrs. McLean, in her report of the recent exhibition, mentioned that there were sixty exhibitors and about 300 entries. She also thanked the members for the co-operation, and complimented Mrs. Currie upon winning Councillor Borden's prize to the exhibitor gaining the most points in adult classes. A letter of thanks will be sent Mr. Campbell for his wonderful display of gladioli, and for his kindness in auctioning for the funds.

It was decided to hold classes in raffia work instead of the proposed physical culture classes, and arrangements will be made to start as soon as possible. Mrs. Miles was appointed convener for the classes.

The card parties will be resumed on Monday evening, and on Wednesday, September 25, it is planned to hold a dance. After the business session a social half hour was spent, during which Mrs. Sheepway served tea.

Lake Hill W.I. Hear Report of Recent Fall Fair

Mrs. Peddie, the president, who took the chair at the monthly meeting of the Lake Hill Women's Institute yesterday afternoon, was presented with a box of fragrant roses as an expression of the general pleasure in her recovered health. The meeting was held in the institute room and eighteen members were present. Immediately following the institute ode—a few moments were spent in silence in memory of the late Mrs. Fooks, a valued member for many years, and one of the first enrolled members of Lake Hill Institute.

Mrs. Porter reported that nine members had assisted in the demonstration of wool quilt making at the Provincial Exhibition. Arrangements were made to hold a wool box on Thursday, September 12, in the institute room, commencing at 1 o'clock. Mrs. McLean, in her report of the recent exhibition, mentioned that there were sixty exhibitors and about 300 entries. She also thanked the members for the co-operation, and complimented Mrs. Currie upon winning Councillor Borden's prize to the exhibitor gaining the most points in adult classes. A letter of thanks will be sent Mr. Campbell for his wonderful display of gladioli, and for his kindness in auctioning for the funds.

DISCOVER NEW MOZART MASS

Baden, Austria, Sept. 4.—Discovery of an unknown "harmony" Mass in B flat, thought to be by Mozart, has been reported by Choirmaster Bernard Neufelder of the parish church here.

The mass bears Mozart's autograph signature and is marked for soprano, alto, tenor, bass and string and brass instruments. It is being examined to see if it is genuine.

Evening Wraps
 There's a preference for short length types of evening wraps in the new mode. Some coats, though, are long pointed and flared. Some are flared just below the hips. Varying lengths are seen in caps.

Welcome Club—The Welcome Club will hold a picnic at Seaside on Thursday afternoon to which all girls are invited. The members will leave the Y.W.C.A. at 4 o'clock.

Happy Valley

Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Barker and family have returned to Seattle after spending the summer months at their summer home "Loma Linda."

A basket picnic will be held by the members of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute on Thursday afternoon, September 5, at Taylor's Beach. Transportation has been arranged and members are asked to be ready promptly at 2 o'clock and to bring their own cups.

Mrs. H. E. C. Hebdon and Miss Greta Hebdon spent several days in Seattle last week.

Mrs. Robert Brown, "Mandalay," had as her guest over the week-end her sister, Mrs. Geo. Creighton of Vancouver. Jack Creighton will spend a week in the valley.

Visitors from Seattle spent the week-end with Mrs. H. E. C. Hebdon.

Ten members of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute attended the quilting bee at the home of Mrs. R. Brown, Thursday evening.

TWO FLIERS KILLED

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 4.—C. B. Adair, forty-five, and E. W. Gotwals, fifty, both employed by the Missouri highway engineering department, were killed yesterday when an aeroplane crashed at the commercial airport near here.

Willis Young, thirty-two, who was piloting the plane, in which Adair and Gotwals were passengers, was not seriously injured.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MRS. E. J. G. ELDRED
Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

INFORMATION ON CARE OF TEETH

Mrs. A. W. writes:
My baby was two years old in June and has all his teeth. I have always washed them with a coarse wash cloth to keep them clean, but lately there is a film over them and they are beginning to turn a little green on top. He won't let me use a tooth brush, so I don't know what to do. My sister's baby is the same age and his teeth are as white as can be.

"Is it possible that there may be something lacking in the diet? For breakfast he gets an egg and cereal and milk. Later, the juice of an orange. For lunch he gets chicken or bacon and two vegetables and milk and steamed fruit. This present coating of green had best be removed by the dentist, it will resist your efforts."

ANSWER

Just washing teeth with plain water isn't enough to keep off deposits and, as your baby eats no coarse food that might help in that direction, you simply must resort to some powder or paste that will remove the coating. Use a clean piece of absorbent cotton each morning (the wash cloth sounds distasteful to me) and put on some precipitated chalk or some commercial powder or paste that isn't rough and gritty. If the baby handles his own toothbrush, he would probably enjoy it. For the future, if the teeth are washed this way daily, they should keep clean, but this present coating of green had best be removed by the dentist, it will resist your efforts.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Dr. and Mrs. Peter A. Sweeney, of Hollywood, Cal., are visiting in Victoria as the guests of Dr. Sweeney's mother, Mrs. M. Sweeney, of Trutch Street.

Mrs. P. M. Barr entertained recently at a beach party and miscellaneous shower at her summer home at Cordova Bay in honor of Miss Evelyn Johnson, who is to be married shortly.

MOTHERS and THEIR CHILDREN

SIMPLE NEEDLEWORK

One Mother Says:
On rainy days or in vacation time when little folks have become tired of the usual amusements I have my children rip the stitching out of small sugar sacks. I press the pieces and stamp on them different designs, such as a flower, cat or dog. The children were taught to outline these with embroidery thread and they did them so nicely that I hemmed the pieces and used them for lunch napkins and for tray cloths under the baby's plate. Now they make pot holders, towels and aprons from them for Christmas presents. I allow them to select their own colors and this gives their artistic sense a chance to develop.

Give him more activity with his hands, let him feed himself and he'll learn to chew better. Don't fuss about it if he chokes a little, help him with water and pat his back but don't act excited or nervous for this frightens the child so that he is even more apt to choke. Cut his meat finely. If I were you I would try other meats such as lamb, scraped beef or well-cooked liver. A diet of bacon and chicken would be tiresome to most anyone. Cottage cheese can take the place of meat in the diet.

ANSWER

"My small daughter has suddenly developed hives. She has never had these before. What do you think causes them?"
Hives can come from so many sources that one has to decide that mainly by the previous day's diet. The most frequent causes are port, shell fish, eggs, fruits, especially peaches and strawberries. But people develop hives sometimes while on a trip when apparently their diet is no different from the one to which they have been accustomed. Change of water, the excitement of the journey, are sufficient in themselves sometimes to bring out these annoying itchy wheals.

Mrs. Eldred's leaflet "Diet From Six Weeks to Six Years," is designed to help mothers with the feeding problems of their children. She will be glad to forward this leaflet to readers for only a self-addressed and stamped envelope enclosed with request, mailed to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, in care of the Your Baby and Mine Department of this newspaper.

Evaporation Marks

To remove perspiration marks from white silk, mix some bicarbonate of soda to a stiff paste with cold water. Spread thickly on the parts and leave for an hour or so before washing. This also will remove scorch marks if they are not very bad.

The "Luxury" of a Clay Pack

Do you regard a clay pack as one of those delightful inventions for those who can pay to look young? When your own face seems to sag, looks sallow and tired do you simply accept it as "one of those things?"

All it needs is care. A tired skin can be remarkably refreshed by my simple clay pack.

Get a tube of Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay and apply it as directed. When you wash it off the gentle, purifying action of the clay leaves a pleasant afterglow. The pores are freed of tiny, blemishing clots of dirt which become imbedded and, particularly in oily skins, form blackheads. Your face is thoroughly freed from these obstructions and the pores can function normally. The clay also is an astringent, leaving the pores closed, the skin clear.

My White Youth Clay is the only product of its kind which I know. It is dainty and agreeable to use. Get it at any toilet counter, in several sizes. (Adv.)

Need Larger Markets For Canadian Tobacco

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—"With more than $5,000,000 pounds of tobacco grown in Canada during the last three years, it is time for us to think of our foreign markets," said Dr. M. T. Nelson, chief of the tobacco division of the Department of Agriculture, in an address here.

Canada was rapidly becoming a factor in supplying the world with tobacco, and every effort was being made to put her to the front as a tobacco growing country, he said.

Of the smoking tobacco sold in Canada, about two-thirds was home grown, he stated, while in the cigars sold in Canada, about forty per cent of the tobacco used was Canadian.

Young College Star Ties With Jones For Medal Honors

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Victoria has brought another promising young golfer to the front in the person of Bob Morrison, newly crowned city champion. Morrison, who is a member of the Uplands Golf Club, has been improving steadily. Throughout the recent tournament for the city title Morrison displayed wonderful form and early in the play was picked as one of the favorites. Only a youngster he has a wonderful future ahead of him and given plenty of time in which to practice should be heard from in future tournaments of the Pacific Northwest.

Morrison's win was a great moral victory for the Uplands club. Although the youngest of the clubs in the city they have, probably, the strongest list of players. The club is reaping the benefit of the action several years ago when it decided to coach the youngsters. All of Uplands' star players are for the most part youths. They have been coached by the club and now are about ready to hold their own in any of the tournaments. In the qualifying round of the city championship, Uplands had the honor of having four of its members in the first five. Bob Morrison was the medalist. Harold Brynolfson was tied with Art Bessley, Oak Bay, for second place, while Clarence Brynolfson and Bill Newcombe followed in the order named.

One of the disappointments of the tournament was the showing of Norman Wallace, holder of the Macaulay club title. This youngster, who jumped into the limelight by his wonderful exhibition in the final of the B.C. amateur play, was knocked out in the second round by Jack Mason, the southpaw. Ever since he was defeated by Hunter in the B.C. tournament, Wallace, according to reports, has been off his game.

Morrison will now shine up his clubs for the B.C. open tournament to be held towards the end of the month at the Oak Bay course. The city champion will be up against pretty stiff competition as the cream of the province's amateur and pro will be entered. Among the most formidable will be Freddy Wood, sensational young Vancouver amateur, who reached the semi-finals in the Canadian amateur at Jasper Park. Wood likes a short course so Oak Bay should be nice for him. Among the pros entered will be Taylor, Alex Martin, Walter Griffin and Freddy Burrell from Victoria and Dave Black, Dunc Sutherland, Charlie Perkins and Alex Dunlop from Vancouver. Included in the Vancouver amateur contingent from Vancouver, besides Wood, will be: Monty Hill, Cecil Coville, Jack Fraser and Alfred Bull. It should be quite a tournament.

It will not be long now before the local football season is under way. The organizers of the various clubs are now being held while some of the teams are already holding practices. The Victoria and District League has decided to have six teams in its loop this season, the same as last year. This will make a good league providing the teams are more evenly balanced. The season has been a success. If there are a couple of weak sides it will be a bad thing for football. Keen competition makes for the success of the game of sport. Fans do not like to witness a runaway race.

As far as Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, is concerned, the pennant race for this year is all over but the shouting. Not that his team is not running up their base hits or that his pitchers are not bearing down, but as for catching up with Connie Mack's high-flying Athletics, even little Miller has thrown up the sponge. It is generally known that the Yankee management contemplate wrecking the old championship club. Most of the crumblers in the Yankees have been in the pitching staff, and here is where the bulk of the rebuilding will be done. Just recently the Tanks completed a deal with the San Francisco Seals for Vernon Gomes, nineteen-year-old left-handed pitcher, who has made quite a record on the east this summer. Information comes that the Yankees shelled out $25,000 and two players, yet to be named, for the recruit. Gomes had won thirteen games and lost six when the deal was completed. Two other hurling prospects for Huggins' staff are Jack Allen from Mobile and Jack Allen of the Asheville Valley League club. For Asheville the Tanks paid $20,000 and for Allen they cut loose with 10,000 ironmen.

Miss Mallory beats Betty Nuthall, then Helen Willis beats Mollie while Helen Jacobs is losing to a British play. It would be somewhat difficult to find any evidence that the tennis series at Victoria Hills was a frame.

Picking a winner of this forthcoming Sharkey-Loughran thing is much the same as trying to find out who is the World War. Everybody wins at the customers.

Harold is going in for football scientifically. One of the questions asked is a recent statement in coach's words: "What would you do with the score seven to six against you, fourth down, two yards to go on opponent's thirty-yard line, and one minute to the end of the game?"

Probably the answer to that one is: "Take a quickie to the sidelines and psycho-analyze the fellow."

The answer to that one would have been: "But to-day, in a situation like that, about the only thing Harold would do would be to take another look and pray."

The question was not asked of prospective quarterbacks, however, but coaches. A good answer would be: "My quarterback would handle that situation."

Draw Is Made For Opening Soccer Games

Six First Division Clubs Will Be Seen in Action on September 14

Victoria City, Last Year's Champions, Will Face Esquimalt Eleven

Soccer will be formally ushered in for the 1929-30 season on Saturday, September 14, with all six teams in the Victoria and District League in action. At a meeting of the league executive held last night at the Y.M.C.A., final arrangements for the opening were made and the draw made for the initial games. Grounds and referees will be set at a later date.

Victoria City, last year's champions, and winners of practically all the honors in local soccer, have been drawn against Esquimalt, champions several years ago. Spanish Thistles will meet Victoria West, while the Five C's and Jokers, the two youngest clubs in the division, will hook up. This will give the fans a fine programme of soccer for the opening day.

First Division clubs are already holding practices and working in preparation for the start. All the team managers claim to have the championship club, but this will have to be decided on the field of play. Although nothing definite is available on the line-ups it is understood the teams have signed up the majority of their last year's players. A few new faces will no doubt appear. It is understood some of the teams have lined up several of last year's junior stars.

At last night's meeting Percy Hope was elected to the position of secretary-treasurer. At the annual meeting Fred Oliver was named for the position, but he declined the post.

FORDS WIN BALL TITLE

Defeat Plimleys in Second Play-off Game, 14-1; Todd Hurlis No-hit Game

Fords are the first champions of the Garage Baseball League. Last night at the Royal Athletic Park they handed Plimley's a 14-1 defeat in the second game of the play-off series and won the league title and along with it the Imperial Oil Cup.

"Doc" Todd, Fords' veteran moundman, was the hero of the encounter. He pitched a no-hit game, and but for a couple of errors by his teammates would have had the honor of pitching a no-hit no-run game. Plimley's was yanked in the third inning after Fords had patted his offerings to all corners of the lot. Myers, who replaced him, fared little better, and the procession of runs continued. Fords collected ten hits off the two twirlers.

The game was umpired by Bobby Ross.

Fraser Mills Blank Generals In Third Game

New Westminster, B.C., Sept. 4.—Fraser Mills blanked Generals of Vancouver, in the third game of the provincial baseball championship series. The score was 7-0. The fourth game will be played in Vancouver to-night. Generals have won two games, and Fraser Mills one.

Winners of the City Baseball Championship

JOKERS' BASEBALL TEAM

which captured the championship of the Victoria-Senior Amateur Baseball League after a hectic six-game play-off series with the Sons of Canada, last year's title holders. Coming into the Senior League this season after winning the Commercial League title last season, the Jokers have experienced a most successful season. Composed for the most part of younger players the Jokers, after a rather poor start, rapidly came to the cusp, third-place team, in a series of games which would battle the Sons for the championship. They won this series and then took the Sons into camp. Those in the above picture, reading from left to right, are as follows: back row, "Hap" Gandy, third base; Dave Donaldson, manager; Dan Lidstone, pitcher; George Patton, president; "Slim" Belcher, first base; "Cub" Collins, pitcher; Wes Kitchney, pitcher, and Barry; centre row, Jim D'Arcy, shortstop; "Slap" Rivers, reserve; Hughie Devereaux, centre field; Polkard, pitcher; second base, and Harry Downs, catcher; front row, Archie Hubbard, catcher; the bat boy and Elmer Smith, right field.

Edgren's Highlights In U.S. Amateur Golf

Noted Sports Writer Praises Exhibition of Don Moe, Portland Youngster; Figures He Will Be Serious Threat, Along With Other Pacific Coast Entries; Describes Erratic Play of Cyril Tolley, British Champion.

(By ROBERT EDGREN)

Pebble Beach, Sept. 4.—Reliable Robert Jones of Atlanta, always at the top or within easy-striking distance, moved up a notch in the second qualifying round of the U.S. amateur golf championship, being played here all this week. Jones was a stroke behind Gibson Dunlap Monday. He finished qualifying tied for best medal score with E. V. Homans, at 145. Dunlap dropped back to 147, but is undoubtedly very much to be considered in the match play that started this morning. Homans shot a seventy-two in the first round so he had to pick up a couple of strokes to tie Bobby yesterday, which wasn't easy, with a southwest breeze blowing briskly in from the open sea.

The 75 that Bobby shot wasn't a measure of the different weather conditions, although the wind may have had something to do with this drop from 70 of his opening round. The Far West, qualifying more than 100 competitors in the medal rounds, is showing up with unexpected strength, and many of the well-known veterans of other championship tournaments, including even the redoubtable Chick Evans, went down under the rush.

MOE PLAYING WELL

Don Moe and Dr. Willing, both of Portland, Oregon, qualified with 146, a stroke behind Jones and Homans, after two days of play. Both had shot 72 the first day. Moe will surely be a contender for the title. He is only eighteen years old, a tall, slender, very deliberate boy. He is almost another Bobby Jones in action, and much cooler than Bobby was at his age. He was followed by a large gallery during the second qualifying round, but it didn't bother him a bit. As he came down from the seventeenth a rumor spread that he was making the low medal score. He drove far from the eighteenth tee while the crowd that gathered around the grounds after other favorites had finished, rushed for positions along the last fairway, pushing back over the chalk lines. Moe's second shot was straight for the green and stopped rolling only twenty feet from the edge of the cliff and nearer the green than anyone else has driven, except the redoubtable Jones himself. Moe strolled deliberately up to the traps, glanced across to judge the texture of the green, and then strolled back and pitched neatly to within four feet of the cup. He sunk the putt for a birdie, and for a few minutes there was a great discussion about the adding up of the score which was settled when 146 was chalked up on the board.

Dr. Willing, who also shot his two days' score within a stroke of the leaders, is as deliberate as his eighteen-year-old townsman, and seems to be playing at the top of his game. Chick Evans, who shot 77-78—mighty good golf for an old timer who held the U.S. amateur championship in 1904, twenty-five years ago. That is a record that would be hard to tie in any other sport but golf, and that isn't said often even there.

TOLLEY IRREGULAR

Cyril Tolley, the British amateur champion, qualified all right with 157, but he was snaky in trouble on the fourth hole of the match play. He was a fighting golfer, however, and will find himself in the match play. Bracketed with Sweetser is the famous automobile racing driver, Peter, was probably the happiest individual on the whole golf course.

WILL MAKE EFFORTS TO REVIVE LACROSSE

Premier of Canada Will Be Asked for Yearly Grant To Help Game

A. E. Coe, Winnipeg, Elected President of C.A.L.A. at Annual Meeting

New Westminster, Sept. 4.—A. E. Coe and W. O. Graham, of Winnipeg, were re-elected president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association at the annual meeting held yesterday and concluded late last night.

Delegates were in attendance from British Columbia, Manitoba and Ontario, and in the majority of cases lacrosse was reported in a healthy condition. A committee was appointed to be known as the Olympic organizers to all parts of Canada in an effort to revive the game and have at least one team in every city of any size.

It was decided to play the final for the Mann Cup next year in Ontario.

OFFICERS NAMED

Officers elected were: Hon. president, Joe Lally, Cornwall; first vice-president, A. E. Lyon, Toronto; second vice-president, Rudy Graier, Vancouver; executive, Andy Hamilton, Montreal; Jim McConagh, Vancouver; W. E. Kelley, Toronto, and the president of each association.

Leonard Smith, of Toronto, was re-elected representative to the Olympic committee and will be instructed to attend the meeting to be held in Hamilton, September 12, as delegate from the C.A.L.A. in an effort to have lacrosse, both men and girls, included in the next Olympic.

Squamish Indians Defeat Royal City Team in Playoff

Vancouver, Sept. 4.—Willie Gallagher, former worker of the Squamish Indians, pitched his team into the main event of the provincial baseball championship at Athletic Park Tuesday night. Gallagher, twirling fire ball, limited Trapp Buicks of New Westminster to seven hits and three runs, while his teammates were getting eight runs and eleven base hits.

To-night Mc and Mc meet Marshall Wells in the Senior "B" League, while Generals and Fraser Mills clash in the fourth game of the senior "A" provincial playoff finals.

Dusty Miller Wins Real Slugging Bee

Santa Rosa, Cal., Sept. 4.—Dusty Miller, 181 pounds, of Victoria, B.C., won a ten-round main event decision here last night over Frank Williams, 183 pounds, of Los Angeles.

The light mood of the way was just a punching match, lots of slugging and little science.

Softball Teams Play To-night in Knockout Final

In the final game for the Foodie Dog Cup, emblematic of the championship of the city knockout series, the Saanich "A" and Plimley & Ritchie softball teams will meet to-night at the upper Central Park diamond at 8:10 o'clock. Ernie Stock will umpire.

Final Standing of O.C. Cricket Teams

Besppectacle Eugene V. Homans Springs From Pack to Threaten Championship in U.S. Amateur Golf After Gibson Dunlap, Sensation of Opening Rounds, Skids; Third Time in His Career Jones Has Figured in a Tie; Gale Shatters Hopes of Many Stars; Chick Evans, Somerville, Carrick, Dolp, Bon Stein and Jack Neville Among Casualties.

Pebble Beach, Calif., Sept. 4.—Somebody must have let loose a few good old-fashioned college cheers before the battle of Pebble Beach began for the U.S. amateur golf championship. For the second successive day an undergraduate club swinger jumped out of the pack to give the defending champion, Bobby Jones, a fight for scoring honors. Yesterday, bespectacled, deliberate Eugene V. Homans of Englewood, N.J., and Princeton University, took over the lion-taming role from Gibson Dunlap, Los Angeles collegian and sensation of the opening round.

GALE SWEEPS HOPES

After a half gale had swept hopes all over the seaside course, Homans was tied with Jones for the medal, and led in the thirty-six-hole, two-day qualifying test.

Fighting gamely in the wake of the Georgian, Dunlap finished with 69-78—147. The Los Angeles youth at no time was in danger of repeating his record performance of the opening day, losing control of his tee shots and on several occasions narrowly escaping disaster on the ocean's brink. Jones, in the star double-barreled encore of Monday's main act, shook off his youthful rival from Southern California, but was unable to outshoot the consistent Princeton star. Homans, whose father was famous on the gridiron for the tigers.

JONES OFF ON PUTTING

The champion, again trailed by the biggest gallery, had an eight-foot putt on the home green for a birdie four that would have given him undisputed possession of the lead. He missed it, however, by a wide margin just as he had on opportunities on any number of greens.

It was the third time in his career that Jones has figured in a tie for the qualifying medal. The Georgian, who has won the title five times in the last five years, was deadlocked with Fred Wright Jr. of Boston, at the Englewood Club in 1920 and again in 1923 at Pleasanton, with Chick Evans of Chicago. Jones won the medal outright in 1926 at Baltusrol and at Minikahda in 1927.

Dunlap not only lost his gallant bid for the low scoring honors, but was beaten out for third place by two stars from the Pacific northwest, the veteran D. O. F. Willing and youthful Donald K. Moe, western champions, both of Portland, Ore. As they did on the first day, Dr. Willing and Moe duplicated each other's scores and were tied with 72-75—147 against a stroke behind the leaders.

DRAMATIC FINISH

Moe's finish, where he had a chance on the last few holes to wrest the lead from all rivals, was one of the most dramatic of the day. Among the last to finish, the young Oregon ace missed easy putts on both the sixteenth and seventeenth, and was on the edge of the 540-yard green in two, missing his chip for an eagle by four feet. A narrow margin that his birdie four was easy.

Scores were sent soaring by the wind that threatened the errors of Pebble Beach, and it took scores of 160 or better to get within the select circle of thirty-two qualifiers who begin the match-play, man-to-man battle to-day for the championship.

Two 18-hole rounds will be played, and to-night the field will be cut to eight.

The conditions under the conditions were not as heavy as appeared likely when the high scores began to roll in, but the list of victims included Chick Evans and Jimmie Carrick, 1928 champion and finalist of Pebble Beach, and Donald K. Moe, who took a stroke, taking 81 Monday and 80 yesterday for 161.

TWO CANADIANS OUT

Others to fall by the seaside were the two Canadian entries, Ross Somerville with 162, and Carrick 160. Both former holders of the Dominion title; Fred Wright of Boston with 163, Dr. Willing of Portland, Ore., Bon Stein of Seattle and Keefe Carter of Oklahoma City, all former holders of the western amateur crown, and all finished with 168. Jack Neville, the California titleholder, who played with Jones, had 168; D. Clarke Corkran of Philadelphia, medalist in 1924, put himself out with 178.

There were a number of close calls as well as a few comebacks among the favorites. George Von Elm of Detroit, 1926 champion, blew himself to a bad 82, but his 75 on the previous day saved him. Philippe Finlay of Redlands, Calif., former Harvard player, reversed his process and came back with a 75 yesterday after starting 8-5-7, and after 157 of the previous day, also totaling 157. George Voigt of New York, the 1928 medalist, whose 80 of Monday hit him on the ragged edge, fought his way around in 78 yesterday afternoon and aggregated 158.

BRITISHERS QUALIFY

All three members of the British contingent remained to keep the international flavor of the tournament. Cyril Tolley, the British champion, put his third shot in a hole, bordering the home hole and took a seven, but finished his two days' work in 75-78—153, well within the fold. T. A. Boum, with 80-77—157, put on a rally, but his countryman, Eugene V. Homans, found all kinds of trouble and barely made the grade with 78-83—161.

Homans, former Metropolitan champion, got an early start on the field yesterday morning and with careful, steady golf, set the pace, his two-day total of 145 representing only four strokes over par on this difficult course.

Bob Edgren Is Writing U.S. Golf For The Times

During the United States amateur golf championship at Pebble Beach, California, The Times is receiving a daily story from Robert Edgren, noted sports writer, on the highlights of the tournament. Edgren, who is one of the best-known writers in the sport world, is a regular contributor to The Times and his stories always make interesting reading.

Homans kept out of trouble by the simple expedient of sticking to the line, well away from the terrors of sand and ocean. Out in 34, two under par, his only mishaps of note were on the twelfth, where he drove out of bounds and on the 218-yard seventeenth, where he hit his tee shot into the sand and took two to reach the green.

His most spectacular stunt was an eagle three on the 480-yard second hole, where he put his second shot less than six feet from the pin, and he been able to get down any number of medium length putts, the Princeton star would have won the medal handsily, for he came in at least a half dozen chances for birdies.

There were no serious attacks upon Noman's leadership until Jones and Dunlap began the big afternoon parade. The crowd expected either to both to beat the early pace setter, but high winds and sand proved their undoing. Jones was not as accurate down the fairway as he was the day before, but most surprising was the lack of his customary putting touch. Bobby got into serious difficulties on any two holes, the eighth, where he shot his second into a sand gulley, and the ocean's edge, and on the 556-yard fourteenth, where he hit his second shot out of bounds. On both he wound up with six to account for the green, strokes by which he trailed Old Man Par, but like Homans, he missed a half dozen fine chances for birdies with putts averaging no more than six or eight feet. The kind that "Criminy Jane" usually makes look easy.

DUNLAP SKIDS

Dunlap started to skid at the outset, finding trouble on three of the first five holes as he hit wildly off the tee. Marvellous recovery saved him notably on the third, where he came out of a trap dead to the pin for his par four.

On the ninth he had to play his third to the green from the sand, and on the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth he encountered more hazards, while also misjudging his approach, while on the eighteenth Dunlap hooked a drive that stopped rolling two feet from the ocean's edge, as a sample of how often he flurried with danger.

The list of those who qualified follows: Robert T. Jones, Jr., Atlanta, 70, 78—148; Eugene V. Homans, Englewood, N.J., 72, 73—145; Dr. O. F. Willing, Portland, Ore., 72, 74—146; Donald K. Moe, Portland, Ore., 72, 74—146; Gibson Dunlap, Los Angeles, 69, 78—147; Roland MacKenzie, Washington, D.C., 72, 76—148; John E. Lehman, Gary, Ind., 73, 75—148; M. R. Johnston, 81, Pacific Mills, 73, 77—150; Jack Galtier, Gilroy, Cal., 74—151; Charles D. Hunter, Jr., Tacoma, 77, 78—152; H. Chandler Egan, Medford, Ore., 77, 78—152; Cyril J. H. Tolley, 78, 78—156; W. E. Kelley, 78, 78—156; David Martin, Downey, Cal., 78, 78—154; Francis Outimet, Boston, 78, 78—154; H. Fendergar, Los Angeles, 79, 79—153; William Lawson Little, 79, San Francisco, 77, 78—155; Clarence Hubby, Dallas, Texas, 77, 78—155; D. H. Sangster, Englewood, Cal., 79, 77—156; George Von Elm, Detroit, 79, 82—157; Phillips Finlay, Redlands, Cal., 78, 79—157; T. A. Boum, Great Britain, 78, 79—157; John Goodman, Oxnard, 80, 77—157; Jess Sweetser, 80, 78—157; Vernon N.Y., 78, 78—157; J. de Paula, Bakerfield, Cal., 78, 78—157; Ralph P. Haffner, Pleasanton, Cal., 78, 78—158; George J. Voigt, Douglass, N.Y., 80, 78—158; Vincent Dunlop, Portland, Ore., 73, 83—158; John J. McHugh, San Francisco, 78, 80—158; Eugene P. Stover, Great Britain, 74, 83—159; Eddie Held, New York, 74, 83—160. Held won the play-off for last place on first extra hole.

Goldie Hess in K.O. Over Carter

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 4.—A wild right-hand swing in the tenth round last night gave Goldie Hess a technical knockout over Wildcat Carter, negro slugger, in the last round of a ten-round bout here, after Hess had taken a terrific beating from Carter in seven of the periods.

Could not Eat or Sleep after Husband's Death

Her husband's death left her very run down in health, unable to eat or sleep much. Now she is brighter in spirits and eats and sleeps well. What caused the difference? Let her answer in her own words:

"I think Kruschen Salts are a splendid tonic. After my husband's death in December last I became very run down in health. Had terrible fits of depression and was unable to eat or sleep much. I was also troubled with rheumatism. I decided to take Kruschen Salts and have now taken the little daily dose for nearly two months during which time my health has greatly improved. The rheumatism has completely left me. I am much brighter in spirits and both eat and sleep well."

When life begins to "get you down," when you begin to feel the results of modern artificial conditions—errors of diet, worry, overwork, lack of exercise—then you should turn to Kruschen Salts. They possess a wonderful power of giving new life and vitality to the countless millions of cells of which the human body is composed. The way to keep smiling is to take Kruschen Salts every morning—just a pinch in your first morning cup of coffee or tea.

New Suggestion for Governor-Generalship

Capetown, Sept. 4 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—Notice was given at the opening of the Cape Nationalist Party Congress at Ceres yesterday of a motion suggesting that when the term of office of the Earl of Athlone expires, a South African citizen be appointed the next Governor-General of the Union. A report recently appeared in London newspapers that the Duke of York was likely to succeed the Earl.

"It Helped All My Troubles"

"I was all run-down and out of spirits before my third baby was born, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I had heard so much about it. It helped me with all my troubles and gave me an appetite where before I didn't eat at all and had to stop work and rest every once in a while. I did all of my housework up to the day my baby came, as I am a farmer's wife and could not afford help before. I feel just dandy now and I will answer any letters and I will tell you how good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is."

More Elaboration In the New Fall Frocks

We have just received some very charming versions of the new mode in Silk Frocks for fall.

More elaboration and a trend towards more femininity are noted in their styling. Low flares, tiers, jabots, irregular hemlines, higher waists and circular cut skirts are other pleasing features which add to their interest. Some are sleeveless, these being particularly suitable for semi-evening wear. Others have long sleeves and all have interesting trimming touches to vary their smartness. Materials are canton crepe, flat crepe and crepe satin in black and the new fall shades. Price

DOUGHOOR CHILDREN

To the Editor:—Presumably the quotation published in your issue of August 31 is a correct transcription of Attorney-General Pooley's announcement on behalf of the Government of British Columbia. It is as follows:

"If the Dougheors behave themselves for a period they will get their children back. If they persist in disorderly habits they will lose more children until we have them all under training in institutions." Attorney-General Pooley this morning announced.

That the above should represent the considered opinion of the Government is hard to believe.

The proposal is not only savage, it is grotesque.

If taken seriously it savors of the barbarism of the middle ages.

But supposing that it is merely intended to pull the legs of the Doug-heors and the public, is it safe to in-duge in jests on such a subject?

Buffonery is very well at the conclusion of a parliamentary session, or at the end of a convivial evening, but surely out of place under the circumstances that have now arisen.

Permit me to ask the following questions of the Attorney-General, and through him of the individual members of the Government:

1. Has he any children?
 2. Does he approve of the principle of punishing children for the misdeeds of their parents?

3. Has he ever read of an institution called the Star Chamber?

4. Does he agree that a moral stigma attaches to one who without the gravest necessity separates a little child from its mother?

5. Would a similar punishment under any conditions be meted out to a British citizen as a method of coercion?

6. Is he aware of a single instance in English parliamentary history of any such enactment under British rule since the abolition of slavery?

THEOSOPHY

To the Editor:—I trust you will allow me space in which to refute a statement made at a lecture given last week at the Pemberton Building by "Elsie Scribner. Theosophical lecturer." In the report printed in your paper the lecturer is quoted as follows: "The primary purpose for the founding of the Theosophical Society fifty years ago was the preparation for the coming of a great world teacher."

Whatever may be the purposes of the section of the present Theosophical Society presided over by Dr. Annie Besant, to which the lecturer belongs,

This is to advise that the Mr. Pacific President has arrived from United Kingdom just entered at Customs, and cargo discharged. Please pass Customs entries forthwith and take delivery of goods from Rihet's Pier No. 2.

the only objects of the original Theosophical Society founded by Mme.
 Blavatsky with the aid of others in 1875—from which the numerous Theosophical societies now in existence have sprung—were embodied in its constitution as follows:

1.—To form the nucleus of a universal brotherhood of humanity without distinction of race, creed, sex, caste or color.

2.—To study ancient and modern religions, philosophies and sciences, and to demonstrate the importance of such study and

3.—The investigation of the unexplained laws of nature and the powers latent in man.

Of these the second and third were subsidiary to the first—the only one to which members were under any obligation to subscribe. The idea of a coming Christ was imported into the society many years after the departure of the founders from this earth. Students desiring to acquaint themselves with the esoteric philosophy presented to the world by H. P. Blavatsky, under the name Theosophy, would do well to read her own books, for an immense amount of teaching has been, and is being, given out, and practices encouraged under that name in direct opposition to the spirit and letter of the Theosophy of Blavatsky.

Officers Did
 All in Power
 To Save Lives

At San Juan Hearing First
 Officer Says He Told
 Passengers to Jump

Coastguard Cutters Are Still Patrolling Waters for Wreckage

San Francisco, Sept. 4.—Officers and crew of the passenger liner San Juan sunk Thursday night, with a loss of seventy-one or more lives after the tanker S. C. Dodd struck her amidships, fifty miles down the coast from the Golden Gate, appeared yesterday before a court of inquiry. The court testified they had saved what lives they could.

Charges that the passengers had been neglected and that the crew of the San Juan had only sought to save themselves were vigorously denied.
 Charles J. Tulce, chief officer of the San Juan, was on the stand most of the day. He was awakened shortly before midnight, he said, by the three blasts of the San Juan's whistle, which signaled the reversal of the engine.

The Dodd was still some 400 feet away
 when he reached the deck, he said,
 and continued:

"About twenty passengers were grouped on the deck. I shouted to them to jump. Then we crashed. In a few seconds and went under. I was washed away."

Tulce was of the opinion that passengers had no time to obtain life preservers.

Second Officer August Olson, of the San Juan, testified that he was eating his midnight lunch just before the accident happened.

"Immediately I saw there was something wrong I dropped my cup of coffee," he said, "then I heard an order to man the lifeboats. I went to post No. 8 and commenced cutting away the ropes which held it in place. When the boat was level with the deck I looked about for passengers to put aboard, but none was in sight. Just then a wave washed over the deck and I thought I was gone, but the swell passed and I stood on the deck for a brief period until the ship sank beneath me. Afterwards, while in the water, I saw the lifeboats floating about bottom side up."

John McCarthy, third assistant engineer, also told of the lifeboat episode.

described by Olson, and declared that "if there had been any passengers, they would have gone ahead of me." He said he held a medal for bravery for standing three successive watches when the steamer Queen burned off the Oregon coast in 1904.

Reports yesterday from Santa Cruz county said the wreckage from the San Juan had been washed ashore.
 Three coastguard cutters still are patrolling the wreck area, but only the two bodies recovered some days ago have been found.

Most of the bodies are believed imprisoned in the wrecked ship.
 The Standard Oil Company, owner of the Dodd, filed a petition in Federal court yesterday for "exoneration from or limitation of liability" for damages arising from the collision. The Los Angeles and San Francisco Navigation Company, operators of the San Juan, previously had filed libel suits totaling $1,800,000 against the Standard Oil Company and yesterday's petition was in the nature of an answer.

 Tug Near Seattle

Seattle, Sept. 4.—The tug Veritas of Miller said: "W.Va." was lettered on

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

Chicago, Sept. 4.—The Tribune says that weather and crop conditions in Argentina are the dominating influence in the wheat market at the present time, and reports regarding the outcome in North America have lost their influence. While there is an urgent need of rain in Argentina, and the new wheat crop is making a head start over a wide area, it is still three months to harvest in the main belt, and the drought reports do not have the lasting effect they would have a month from now. Drought also prevails in Australia.

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, Sept. 4.—Wheat: There was very little feature to the wheat market to-day, trade volume being small, and the demand was only moderate, the local market fluctuating largely in sympathy with Chicago.

Liverpool decidedly weak, the cables started our market about 1 1/2 lower, but resting orders were met and the early loss was recovered, but the upturn was not held, prices gradually sinking away until they are 2 1/2 under last night's close, the market lacking any new buying, while local longs were endeavoring to support the market by absorbing, but there was no pep to the buying and with a certain amount of liquidation the market reached the lowest points near the close.

The cash market also very slow, with an indifferent demand and offerings light. Local shippers and terminals were taking the offerings at spreads unchanged to fractionally better on the low grades. Export sales over night were very small and millers were doing nothing and report flour demand poor. Rains were general in Manitoba and the eastern half of Saskatchewan, the past twenty-four hours being very heavy at several points which will check the spring for a day, but further west the weather was mostly clear and country marketings Tuesday reached the highest figures so far this season being 5,500,000 compared with only 579,271, a year ago.

The weather forecast was for mostly clear and rather cool, some rains reported as cloudy with rains threatening.

Coarse grains: Outside of some small demand for barley there was very little doing in the coarse grains. The demand for oats and rye was practically nil. There is very little selling pressure, but all prices were lower in sympathy with the decline in wheat.

VANCOUVER MINING MARKET

(Miller, Court, Over Leased Wires)

Vancouver, Sept. 4.—The market is still at the stage where the rumors factor is working overtime to stimulate what trading there is.

Last month the rumors were flying thick and fast regarding Kootenay, and the stock was bobbing up and down. Some one announced that the Kootenay had dropped its option on Kootenay King, and there was a great play in the stock until Howe Sound officials came forward with an official statement that there was nothing in the report of dropping the option. Now Kootenay King stock is being taken up by some of the strongest and best informed interests in the market.

Big Missouri dipped lower to-day with the after tendency emanating from Toronto. As previously pointed out the trend of Big Missouri for the time being will be determined by the Toronto market.

The statement later denied that J. F. Duthie, Seattle capitalist and mine operator, had abandoned his option on the Rutus-Arizona property precipitated a bear raid on that stock yesterday. The stock was sold down to 15. Buying strength was apparent on the shake-out and the stock to-day strengthened to 20.

Conflicting reports have thrown an atmosphere of uncertainty over the Kootenay market. One report is to the effect that an examination of the property was made by Bert Smith of the Premier Gold Mining Company, and Leveaux, a direct representative of the Kootenay interests, and the reports presented by Smith and Leveaux were of such a nature that H. A. Gues, managing director of the Premier company, wired from New York to their selectors in Vancouver to cancel all further negotiations for the purchase of the property. This report, which is quite definite in stating that all further negotiations have been terminated, is not from rumor source, but from a source which has hitherto been regarded as quite reliable.

Second report is exactly the opposite of the first.

BUILDING ROOMS CANADIAN BRIDGES PROFIT HARVEST TO DOMINION BRIDGE

(H.C. Bond-James Richardson)

Montreal, Sept. 4.—With Wall Street mostly easier, the Canadian market was mostly off to-day.

As had been generally anticipated, directors of Canadian Car announced a split of the existing common and preferred shares, on the basis of four new shares for each share now held. While no official intimation was forthcoming, the dividend rate which would be inaugurated on the new shares, it was stated by well-informed individuals that a 2 1/2 per cent rate would be paid on the new common and preferred shares. The fact that the new preferred will retain all its present rights very logically explains the spread of four new shares for each share now held. The two classes of stocks at the present current estimates of earnings by the company suggest that over 60 per share will be shown earnings for the present fiscal year.

The construction figures for Dominion Bridge for August, show the highest level of new contracts ever awarded, and the company's earnings for the year ended August 31, 1929, showed an increase of forty per cent over August of last year. This might very logically explain the high regard with which Dominion Bridge is held by the majority of the street. The company has been reaping a great harvest from the new building that has been going on in the Dominion for some time past and which, from present indications, is destined to continue for some time to come.

Dominion Bridge's new Vancouver plant is to be started early next month.

"I said—" Nan gasped, struggling to release her hands, "that if Curtis is going to get well, then I'm—I'm not needed any more, and I can go—"

"Go?" Dr. Black interrupted with sharp astonishment. "Go where, child? Are you crazy?"

"I believe I am!" Nan moaned. "If I'm not now, I will be, unless I get away! I tell you, I can't stand it any longer, Dr. Black!"

"So—you're a quitter, Nan?" the old doctor asked gently.

"Yes, a quitter, if you want to call me that!" Nan answered passionately. "I can't stand it any longer—the three of us, John, Iris and I, under the same roof. There are some things too hard for human endurance, Dr. Black!"

"Nan, why did you marry John Curtis Morgan?" the doctor interrupted gravely.

"You know! Because he and Curtis needed me. Nan flung up her head and glared at her former champion.

"You didn't love him?" Dr. Black insisted gently.

"That's not fair! You know I loved him—love him now with all my heart," Nan cried. "But I married him because he needed me—he and Curtis."

"And you're willing to quit now, because you believe you are no longer needed?" the doctor prodded.

"They have—her!" Nan reminded him vehemently. "They both seem to want her—more than me—"

"Listen, Nan! I'm telling you, in all seriousness, that they never needed you more. Wait! Listen to me! Have you thought what would happen to John Curtis Morgan if you desert him now? You would be leaving him at the mercy of every scandal-monger in the town. His fair reputation, which no one has guarded more jealously than you have, would be ruined. Iris Morgan is not his wife. As it is with you here as a chaperon—"

A wild, hysterical laugh ripped out of Nan's throat. "That's good!" she gasped. "I'm needed as a sop to conventional my sole functions now are, to be a servant to Iris Morgan and a chaperon—oh! Delicious irony! And she laughed again—a dreadful sound."

"Stop it, Nan!" the doctor commanded, almost roughly. "I know it's purgatory for you, child, but you've got to stick it until Curtis is well enough for me to send that woman packing. I can't do it now, with the boy still as sick as he is. But I give you my word, Nan, that I'll send her back across the street as soon as Curtis is unquestionably out of danger of a relapse. . . . You're borne a great deal."

adorable boy 'they is, and I love you to distraction."

"What's distraction," he demanded, interestedly, "I love you, too, Nan. I love you to distraction. But what is distraction, Nan?"

It was a happy hour, in spite of the hard ache of pain in the girl's heart. Dr. Black found them both laughing joyfully over a bit of Curtis' impish nonsense when he invaded the room at 5 o'clock, followed by Iris and John Curtis Morgan.

"Well, this looks something like!" the doctor applauded.

"He says he feels 'normal,' Doctor," Nan laughed, shakily. "I'll leave you with your patient now—"

"No, young lady, you stay right here!" the doctor ordered briskly. "Let's look into this 'normal' business. Hand me his chart, please. . . . Um! Splendid! No temperature for three days. Pulse strong and regular. . . . Appetite good. . . . Well, well! Looks like you can't put this invalid stuff much longer, young man!"

"Can I go back to school?" Curtis asked eagerly. "Can I, Dr. Black?"

"Pretty soon," the doctor evaded. "Well, Iris," he turned to the woman who stood with narrowed eyes and flaring nostrils at the foot of the bed. "You may go home this evening. No need—"

"Good morning, Lady Mouse, where are you going?" asked Uncle Wiggily of the Hollow Stump School Teacher one day.

"Oh, I am going to school," she squeaked in answer.

"Why, I thought school didn't open until next week, after Labor Day," spoke the rabbit gentleman.

"It doesn't really open for the boy and girl animals to come to class," went on the Lady Mouse teacher, "but after the long vacation I thought I had better stop in the dear old stump to see that everything was all right, that the rooms are in order, the blackboards clean, and the windows shining. I told Mr. Rat, the janitor, to have everything ready for next Monday, when school really opens, but he may have forgotten something."

"So you are going to take a look around to see that everything is all right," said Mr. Longears. "That's a good idea. I'm going to hop around and look for an adventure. I may pass the stump school a little later, so I'll look you up."

"Please do," invited the Lady Mouse teacher.

Now it happened that Uncle Wiggily could find, this day, no adventure to amuse him, so, after hopping around for some time, he found himself in that part of the woods where the Hollow Stump School stood. Some of the windows were open.

"I'll look in on the Lady Mouse," said Mr. Longears.

As he hopped nearer the school he heard a sad voice coming from it and saying over and over again:

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear! Oh, dear! How sad!"

"My goodness! I wonder if any of the Bad Chaps can have gotten in the school and be pulling the tail of the

Spider Frees Dangerous Wasp From Its Web

By J. F. GLASS

Oliver Goldsmith, the poet, had in his chambers in the Temple in London a spider which lived for three years and with which he became so familiar that it would take a fly out of his hand.

Goldsmith thought the spider most sagacious of insects. He gives an instance of its intelligence. He put a wasp in his pet's web. The spider at once came out to seize it, but when it saw "wasp kind of enemy it had to deal with, it instantly broke all the bonds that held the wasp fast, and contributed all that lay in its power to disengage so formidable an antagonist."

DOROTHY DIX

A YOUNG girl asks: "How should an employer treat his stenographer and other female employees?"

Every employer should treat the girls who work for him as he would wish some other man to treat his daughters if they were thrown out into the world to earn their own bread and butter. And it is to the everlasting honor of our business men that they usually do observe this Golden Rule.

When a girl goes into business, she should leave sex behind her. She is deliberately coming in competition with men and she has no right to ask for any favors because she is a woman, or to expect to be treated differently from the way a man is treated.

Her employer should treat her fairly and give her honest pay for good work. He should show her courtesy and consideration, but a business office is not a drawing room and she has no right to object to his smoking, or expect him to sharpen her pencils, or pick up her notebooks, and she is an idiot if she bursts into tears every time a hard-worked, nerve-racked, worried man is irritable, or finds fault with her work.

A great deal of nonsense is talked about the dangers and temptations of the working girl. If you listened to the alarmist, you would think that every employer was a big fat spider sitting in his private office waiting to devour the poor little unsophisticated fly of a stenographer whom he lured into his parlor.

As a matter of fact, the business girl has no more temptations and is in no more danger from men than is the society girl or the home girl. The time when the business man is dangerous is after office hours. Not in them.

Competition in business is fierce and the man who succeeds has to concentrate upon the task in hand. He has to give to his work his entire attention. For the moment it becomes to him the only thing in the world and he has no time or thought for anything else.

He would not notice her shape even if the Venus de Medici were taking his dictation. His only concern would be with her spelling. Even Cleopatra's charm wouldn't move him if she bungled an order for canned goods, or missed the last quotation on Wildcat Preferred.

There is a time for everything. There is a time for being soft and romantic, and a time for being hard-boiled. There is a time for dalliance and a time for being on your job. There is a time for whispering nothings in a shell-like ear and a time for bawling a girl out if she has made a mistake, and that is why there is mighty little love-making done in business houses during business hours. It isn't the time or the place and mighty few men are in the mood for it.

From 9 to 5 they are chasing dollars. During that time they are trying to emulate Mr. Rockefeller, not Don Juan. It is true that most men prefer a pretty girl to an ugly one, but it is just as they prefer a mahogany desk to a deal one. It is soothing to the eyes to have something easy to look at, but for all that, she is just part of the office equipment.

Moreover, in an office or out of an office, the way a man treats a woman depends almost always on her own attitude. She calls the tune to which he dances. If a girl dresses herself decently and appropriately for business, if she is quiet and dignified and ladylike and businesslike in her demeanor, she will seldom, if ever, have occasion to resent her employer's conduct toward her.

Unfortunately, some girls capitalize their sex when they go into business and expect to make it get them by and alone for lack of industry and accuracy and punctuality. They consider that it is easier to work a man than it is to work at their jobs, and that more money is to be got by gold digging than is found in a pay envelope.

So there is a come-hither look in the eyes they turn on their employers; they languish over them as they take their dictation; they use every art and wile and hint to get invitations to dinners and parties and joyrides. If their employers treat such girls with familiarity, it is because they have invited insults.

In reality, the men and women who work together are less likely to fall in love than any other men and women, because they see each other at close range, and are too familiar with each other's faults and weaknesses. The relation between an employer and his secretary, for instance, is very much like that between a man and his wife.

His stenographer must be his memory, his alibi, the vent for his temper and irritability, even as his wife must, and there is no other man under the sun that she is less likely to fall for. On his part, the employer has to put up with the moods and tenses of his stenographer and keep her fur rubbed the right way, just as he does his wife, and she doesn't look like a ladylove to him.

That is why Cupid seldom goes gunning in a business office and why the relationship between the men and women who work together gets to be a sexless one in which they cease to think of each other as men and women, but just as cogs in a big machine that grinds out money.

BOY KING WAS A KNIGHT AND TRUE TO HIS FAITH

Alexander, a Scotch boy, was only eight years old, but he was to become king of his country, for his father, the king, had just died. As soon as the father was buried, plans were made for crowning the young Alexander as the next ruler.

He was a serious-minded boy and felt very grave about the business of being king. He hoped he might rule his people well. But there was one thing that meant more than being a king to him. That was to be a knight. Knights were pledged to devote their lives to doing noble deeds. Ever since he had known about knights, Alexander had envied them. So when plans were made for crowning the new king, it was also planned to make him a knight. He was to be made a knight first.

When the great day came, he stood before the nobles of the country. He knelt and took the vow of knight-hood, and then the bishop gave him a pair of golden spurs, which all the knights wore. He arose, the youngest knight of all, and, no doubt, the happiest.

All his life, he tried to be true to the ideals of a knight, and he made his people a very good king. Alexander III was born September 4, 1241.

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1929

Sinister planetary influences are supposed to be strong to-day and astrologers read in the horoscope certain evil signs. In the morning the sun will take careful account of financial resources and will avoid any sort of extravagance; if they heed the stars.

Under this rule of the stars many disappointments may be experienced, if attempts are made to push constructive work of any sort. It is not an auspicious rule for any sort of travel and may be especially unfortunate for journeys by air. While all the signs promise for aviation safeness and great development the autumn may be a period of freak storms and unavoidable accidents. Both men and women should avoid entrance to quarrels while this star continues, for crises are readily exaggerated under this planetary government. The day is threatening to domestic happiness and may add to the number of divorces this autumn. Astrologers prophesy that even before the end of the year marriages will be contemplated with a new point of view in which old ideals of permanence prevail.

Reformers will be heard at this time, for the stars seem to preface a national uprising against the power of organized crime. The evening of this day should be propitious for leaders of thought who desire to express their opinions. There is a good sign for public receptions or banquets. Under this direction of the stars much propaganda unfavorable to existing governmental forces in the United States may be disseminated. Warning is given that mass thinking may be easily directed at this time when hypnotism is more than usually prevalent. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year in which they may be easily deceived or defrauded. They should avoid speculation. Children born on this day may have keen minds that harbor great ambitions. Many subjects of this sign have special gifts for acting and imitation. Oftentimes conjurers belong to Virgo.

Louis XIV, king of France, was born on this day, 1638, while Cardinal Richelieu, French statesman, 1585, also claimed it as a birthday. Thomas E. Watson, statesman, 1856, and Joseph Cruikshank, Episcopal bishop, 1816, had this as the natal day. (Copyright, 1929)
